North Bend - The North Bend Airport funding saga comes to a long-awaited conclusion on Thursday, with the Governor paying a visit to the coast to make it official.

Governor Ted Kulongoski signed the North Bend airport New Passenger Terminal Funding Bill into effect.

This bill is an Oregon Solutions Project, with Government, Businesses and non-profits working together to support sustainable community objectives.

Kulongoski deemed the terminal funding bill an Oregon Solutions Project almost two years ago.

Coos County Commissioner Nikki Whitty and Airport District Vice-Chair Sue Richardson were chosen to co-convene the project. Then area legislators Joanne Verger, Wayne Krieger and Arnie Roblan took the fight to Salem.

The Oregon Legislature passed the 10-Million dollar New Terminal Funding Bill at the end of the last session. The funds come from State Lottery Bonds.
